Speaker Profile

Carole Spiers, BBC Broadcaster and popular author is a speaker of great energy and passion who combines deep psychological insight with high credibility as MD of her own high profile Stress Management consultancy. President of the London Chapter of the Professional Speakers Association, a Vice President (and former Chair) of the charity, the International Stress Management Association, Carole established the UK's leading marketing campaign on stress-related issues and achieved extensive worldwide media coverage.

Carole doesn't just talk success – she lives it! As someone who has marketed herself from scratch, she understands both the attitudes and the strategic steps necessary to become a successful entrepreneur.

Her keynote speeches have faced the ultimate test: winning repeat business with leading corporations as diverse as Unilever, Walt Disney, Panasonic and the Bank of England and many others.

'I am in the business of radically changing the attitudes and mindsets that hold you back from living your passion and realising your dream. Join me to learn the inner secrets to strategies that work and can be implemented as soon as you leave the room'
